Steve McIlwaine

Web design and front-end development

I am Steve McIlwaine, a 29-year-old designer and front-end developer based in Norwich. I have over 10 years of experience, creating things across print and online - from loyalty cards and widgets to album covers and websites.

In the past I have done work, both large and small in scope, for globally-known companies (e.g. Games Workshop, Vestiaire Collective), as well as more local companies (e.g. GDPCIC, Fix Coffee).
